NEWS AND COMMENT.

PRESIDENT HARRISON has a "softness" for base-ball.

The Forsythe Riflemen will erect an armory or mammoth hotel in Winston in the near future.

W. H. BARNUM, Chairman of the National Democratic party, died at his home in Limerock, Conn., on the 30th inst.

JUDGE WALTER CLARK with his usual recklessness, has fined a man in Cleveland county one hundred dollars for treating on election day.

It is a noticable fact that while the production of cotton in the Southern States is constantly on the increase, the number of plantations are decreasing.

Sergeant-at-arms Canady says the suit against him is "a matter that will have to be fought out in the courts and not upon the hustings or in the newspapers."

The Richmond Dispatch thinks that if the "Oaklahoma boomers keep up their present pace they will be able to have a centennial of their own in a week or so."

SECRETARY WINDOM has gotten his foot into hot water because he appointed a brother to Senator GORMAN, of Maryland, to a snug position in the Treasury Department.

THE great New York Centennial has come and gone and will be recorded as the grandest celebration the world has ever seen. The crowd has been estimated at 2,000,000 people.

THE "Buck Eye" State carried off the honors at the New York Centennial with nearly four thousand men in line. Louisiana, Florida, Kentucky and Missouri also received high compliments.

THE Goldsboro Headlight reiterates the assertion that Mr. CLEVELAND said his public life was at an end, the contradictory statement of the ex-President to the contrary notwithstanding.

MONEY is thus early being subscribed for the campaign fund for 1892, which gives promise in advance that "Boodle" will again cut a conspicuous figure in American politics three years hence.

THE World attributes the cold wave which struck Madison Square on Tuesday evening to the failure of President HARRISON to salute FORAKER, that littie fool who happened to be elected Governor of Ohio.

REPUBLICAN politicians at the "seat of war" are saying that President HARRISON's tardiness in distributing the spoils is mainly due to his determination to prove to the country that he is a bigger man than BLAINE.

FOR the benefit of those who are curious to know why Mr. DUDLEY "don't take dinner at the white house as might be expected," we will simply say that Mr. HARRISON is fearful that his right bower might cut the "Washington pies" into five pieces.

The New York Tribune says: "With no desire to be an offensive partisan, we remark that it is pleasant to begin the second century since WASHINGTON with a Republican President." But then you know some people have very queer ideas of what is right and pleasant, any way.

QUAY seems to be spoiling for a fight with somebody since WANNAMAKER crossed his path in Philadelphia about the postmastership there. Senator JOHN SHERMAN, however, has served notice on this alleged Napoleon in politics that he had better make his peace with the administration and leave him alone.

THE New York Tribune is out in a long article on "Congressional districting" the country, and says the next session will seriously consider the right of Congress to prescribe congressional districts and the manner of holding elections for Representatives in Congress. But the Tribune will find that the States have rights as well as Congress and will allow no such encroachments upon their vested rights.

THE New York Herald sighs for "a change in men's clothing." It says our "coats, hats and trousers need revision," and that the next "dress reform for men will undoubtedly include knee breeches. They cover up those physical deformities known as bow legs, give one a sense of freedom which creates the desire for a long walk, and are altogether the most pisturesque covering for the nether extremities of that "forked radish" known as man."

THE boss crank of the season asserted himself in Washington a few days since. In the absence of Col. MOORE, chief of the police force. BARKER, the crank, very bluntly assumed charge of the entire force, dismissed the property clerk, issued new orders and for a few minutes filled English Minister. He was known to the the chief's chair with all the dignity of an force at headquarters, however, and the joke was humored for a while, when a few minutes later he left the premises to inspect the force.

Criminal Statistics.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE,
RALEIGH, N. C., April 27, '89.

To the Clerks of the Superior, Criminal and Inferior Courts in North Carolina:

Until I shall have had time to properly prepare the forms prescribed by the recent statute requiring reports of Criminal Statistics, I request the clerks of the courts having criminal jurisdiction to transmit to this department certified copies of their criminal dockets of each term. They will enter thereon, as briefly as may be consistent with an intelligent statement of the facts required, (1) the name, age, sex and race of the defendant; (2) the offence with which he or she was charged; (3) the judgment or order disposing of the case.

These reports are required to be made within twenty days after the adjournment of each term.

The forms are now being prepared, but as their printing and distribution may be delayed for several weeks and the statute imposes severe penalties upon clerks for failure to make the reports within the period designated, the method I have here suggested will be accepted as a compliance with the law until more appropriate forms are furnished.

THEO. F. DAVIDSON,
Attorney General.

Those of Us Not Yet 50 Years of Age.

Homiletic Review.]

Those of us not yet fifty years of age have probably lived in the most important and intellectually progressive period of human history. Within this half-century the following inventions and discoveries have been among the number: Ocean steamships, street railways, elevated railways, telegraph lines, ocean cables, telephones, phonograph, photography, and a score of new methods of picture-making, aniline colors, kerosene oil, electric lights, steam fire-engines, chemical fire-extinguishers, anæsthetics and painless surgery; gun-cotton, nitro-glycerine, dynamite, giant powder; aluminium, magnesium, and other new metals; electro plating, spectrum analysis and spectroscope; audiphone, pneumatic tubes, electric motor, electric railway, electric bells, typewriter, cheap postal system, steam heating, steam and hydraulic elevators, vestibule cars, cantilever bridges. These are only a part. All positive knowledge of the physical constitution of planetary and stellar worlds has been attained within this period.

STATE NEWS.

☞ A PHENOMINAL WELL.—There is a well on the old Adam Clark place in Lilesville township, this county that has peculiarities that the people in the neighborhood would like to have explained by some competent authority. This well is 40 feet deep and up to the time of the earthquake in 1888 always had (winter and summer) seven feet of good water in it. It had never been known to go dry, but on the morning after the earthquake it didn't have a drop of water in it, and since that time in dry seasons the well has been perfectly dry, but during wet spells it gets so full that it sometimes runs over.—Wadesboro Messenger.

☞ We had a pleasant and entertaining chat on Saturday with Col. Wharton J. Green, one of the noblest types of the chivalrous gentleman that we have ever known. His knightly spirit and courtly bearing and polished manners and fine conversational powers made him one of the most fascinating gentlemen that ever lent a charm to existence, and we never meet him without having a higher conception of the regal excellence of genuine nobility.—Wilson Mirror.

The Wealth of the Aster Family.

The rapid rise and immense wealth of the Astor family are due mainly to the thrift, enterprise and sagacity of John Jacob Astor, the cake peddler, who accumulated a fortune of something like fifteen million dollars. John Jacob Astor, his grandson, is unquestionably the richest man in New York to-day, his fortune, which is mainly in real estate, being estimated at one hundred million dollars. He is about seventy years of age, and a widower.

☞ TIM LEE.—Timothy Lee, who had the umbrella encounter with young Mr. Banks in the Ebbitt House, at Washington, a few days ago, is the Tim Lee who was sheriff of Wake county for several years and a high-cock-a-lorum in the Republican camp when that party was in power.—Winston Daily.

Spring is the sweet-scented book in which Nature writes her eloquont sentences of worldless rhetoric in generously blooming flowers.

PUBLIC OPINION.

Ex-President Cleveland's denial of the accuracy of the interview to the effect that he had determined to adhere to his law practice, and would not consent to be the candidate of the Democratic party for the Presidency in 1892 naturally suggests the question as to the standard bearer of the Democracy at that time. Will it be Mr. Cleveland, or who will it be? Instead of 38 States and 401 electral votes, the country will then have 42 States and the electoral votes will be increased to probably 415 or more.

However much some people may think Mr. Cleveland was unwise or impolitic in presenting his tariff message to the Congress on the eve of a national election, or however much they may have differed from him in their views in regard to removals from office, it must be admitted that his administration was one deserving the highest commendation as a whole.—Raleigh News and Observer.

One of the most noticeable features of the present celebration is the coldness with which General Harrison has been received everywhere. The applause that greeted the President wherever he appeared was of the mildest kind, as if inspired solely by a desire to be courteous, or by an indifferent curiosity.—New York Star.

***

The Republicans are great admirerers of Civil Service reform—theoretically speaking. When President Cleveland dismissed one of their number from office, even for causes, and appointed a Democrat to succeed him, he was charged with violating, at least, the spirit of the Civil Service rules, and Republicans, from Maine to California, were filled with righteous indignation. But the "grand old party" now has a chance to deal with Civil Service reform practically. It now has an opportunity to do someteing more than professing a hearty attachment. The Republicans can practice it if they like; but the inclination is wanting. The official ax is felling constantly and it is a Democratic head that drops every time.—Columbus (Ga.) Times.

***

The Republican organs are beginning to picture a very sad state of affairs as existing between Mr. Cleveland, Governor Hill and Mr. Whitney. They say that each one of them wants to be the Democratic Presidential candidate for 1892, and that they are now actively engaged in trying to kill each other politically. It is very evident that the Republican organs don't want to see either one of them nominated. Charleston News.

The Negro Problem In the South Solving Itself.

New York Star.]

"The negro problem in the South is rapidly solving itself," said ex-Governor Bullock of Georgia at the Fifth Avenue last night. "When a black man becomes a property holder he at once becomes one of the most conservative and law-demanding citizens of his neighborhood. He wants his property protected and any kind of crime severely punished, and the more small landowners of this class, or in fact any other class, we get in the South, the more rapid and permanent our material advancement. As a rule, too much education demoralizes all kinds of labor, be it black or white. A good common school education for the masses is about all that should be expected free. The difficulty with a collegiate training is that, as a rule, it unfits a man for a mechanical or industrial life. Naturally there are many exceptions to this rule, and they are many times, interesting and ludicrous. For instance, I have a colored man working for me for $7 a week handling cotton bales. He is a college graduate, and, for his own convenience, marks his cotton with Greek characters. As a rule, a man with his education would refuse to earn a living by labor and would want a professional life."

"In what shape is the Republican party of Georgia," Mr. Bullock was asked.

"Practically we have no such party in Georgia. Prior to the Hayes Administration we had a good, substantial organization, but we disbanded when his idea of Southern Republicans was announced. Since that time the party has been controlled by adventurers who were banded together for the purpose of controlling the Federal offices, and many of the leading white Republicans of the State have had nothing whatever to do with it since 1877. What will or can be done now in resurrecting it depends very much upon the President, but it can never be revived upon a black basis. If there is any one thing settled forever it is that the white people will govern the South, no matter which party is in power. Ignorance cannot and ought not to control either North or South."

President Harrison's Speech at the New York Centennial.

Fellow Citizens;—My task to-day is of a very exacting character and makes it quite impossible that I should deliver an address upon this occasion. Foreseeing this I early notified your committee that the programme must contain no address by me. The selection of Mr. Depew as the orator of this occasion made further speeches not only difficult but superflous. [Applause.[He has met the demands of this great occasion on its own high level. He has brought before us the incidents and the lessons of the first inauguration of Washington. We seem to have been a part of that admiring and almost worshiping throng that filled these streets one hundred years ago. We've come into the serious but always inspiring presence of Washington. [Applause.] He was the carnation of duty and he teaches us to day the great lesson that those who would associate their names with events that shall outlive a century can do so by high consecration to duty. He was like the captain who goes to sea and throws overboard his cargo of rags that he may gain safety and deliverance for his imperilled fellow men. [Applause.] Self seeking has no public observance or anniversary. Washington seemed to come to the discharge of the duties of his high place impressed with a sense of his unfamiliarity with these new calls upon him, modestly doubtful of his own ability and trusting implicity in the sustaing helpfulness and grace of that God who rules the world, presides in the councils of the nation and is able to supply every human demand. We have made a marvellous progress in material things, but the stately and enduring shaft at the national capital in Washington symbolizes that he is yet the first American citizen. [Applause.]

Against Removal.

At the meeting of the citizens of Harnett county, held in the town of Lillington, April 1st, in regard to the proposed removal of the Court House from Lillington to Dunn, J. P. Hodges was called to the chair, and T. W. Harrington was requested to act as Secretary. The object of the meeting having been explained by the chairman, speeches were made by Col. John A. Spears, Dr. John McCormick, Thos. A. Harrington, Hon. Wm. Pearson and the chairman of the meeting. The speeches were all forcible and to the point, and well received by the audience, as evidenced by the rounds of applause and enthusiasm.

A committee, consisting of T. A. Harrington, Daniel H. Green and Col. John A. Spears, reported the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that even if a removal of the county site from Lillington, under the recent act, be lawful and constitutional, still we believe it would be oppressive and unduly burdensome on a great majority of our fellow citizens.

Resolved, That whilst we have not time to enlarge on all the objections to the removal proposed, we say that the proposition to remove a county site from the centre of a county to an edge of the same is always objectionable for obvious reasons.

Resolved, That in this case, if removal should take place, many of our citizens, not only at court time, but at all times, when necessary to visit the court house, would have to travel from 30 to 45 miles and to cross Cape Fear river. At Lillington it is only about one-fourth of a mile from said river where there is a free ferry.

The nearest point to Dunn on said river is about four miles.

Resolved, That we seriously doubt the obligation of the township of Averasboro, to pay the expenses of the election in this question, and we note in the act that no specifications are even alluded to as to the quality of the public buildings proposed to be built, and as such building is proposed to be gratuitous we fear it would not be done, even if necessary.

Resolved, That we now have a suitable court house and jail, and that the charge, publicly made that the court house is "nearly rotten down," is not true.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be sent to the State Chronicle for publication, with request that the Harnett Courier, FAYETTEVILLE OBSERVER and Goldsboro Messenger, copy the same.

T. W. HARRINGTON, Sec'y.

[The failure of the above to appear earlier is due to the Secretary's failure to furnish us with the proceedings of the meeting, or the tardiness of the State Chronicle in publishing same.—ED. OBS.]

$100 REWARD. $100

The readers of the OBSERVER will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength, by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address

THE ORPHAN'S HOME.

Rev. L. B. Payne, Agent and Trustee of the Orphan's Home at Macon, Ga., Writes a Letter Dated February 8th, 1889.

"I have been using Swift's Specific with the children of the orphan's home under my charge with the best results. I began its use between nine and ten years ago, and have seen many remarkable results.

Quite a number of the children had constitutional blood diseases resulting from the sins of the parents and every one of these children were cured of the horrible taint by the use of S. S. S.

There have also been scores of children in the institution whose systems (they having been mostly without the benefits of parental care) were enervated by dirt eating and other foul practices. Every one of these children have taken S. S. S. and all have been signally benefitted by it. All have been cured who have taken enough of it. We have also two inmates of the home, subject to painful recurring attacks of erysipelas. Neither one improved under the treatment usual for the disease. When all other medicines were discarded and they took S. S. S. the cure in each case was quick and permanent, for they have been well for five years and there has been no return of the disease. I could tell much more of the remarkable cures of blood disease by S. S. S., for I have seen it used and know its value.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made, and that, too, by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her, and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but hoy vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, and was so much relieved on taking the first dose that she slept all night, and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus write W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Get a free trial bottle at Sedberry's Drug Store.

Get well and stay well. But how shall we do it?
Listen my friend, and the secret I'll tell,
Though, for that matter, there's no secret to it,
As many a man understands very well.
If you're low-spirited, gloomy, depressed,
If nothing tastes good and your nights bring no rest,
If your stomach is foul and your mouth seems much fouler,
And so cross you become that they call you a "growler,"
Be sure that the trouble is due to your liver,
And the blood is as sluggish as sometimes a river
Becomes when it's filled with all manner of stuff,
Clear it out and the current runs smoothly enough.
Go to the drug store and get a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great blood-purifier and liver invigorator. It is a sure cure for the low spirits and general depression a man feels when his liver is inactive and his blood impure. This remedy makes a man well.

MEMORIAL DAY.

To-morrow the patriotic sons of illustrious sires will meet in this city to pay a lasting tribute to the heroes of the "Lost Cause," now sleeping the sleep that knows no waking in yonder graves!

It is sometimes pleasant and not altogether profitless when the direful storm has spent its fury and is past, to speculate on its causes, but such is needless in this case. The great principle of State Rights for which our forefathers contended is a principle that has ever had a deep and powerful hold upon the popular mind. Even in the infancy of our Republic, when the fathers of the Constitution were endeavoring to shape the colonies just liberoted from the tyranny of the Britisn Crown into a mighty Republic, no question provoked more protracted or more earnest discussion than the burning question of States' Rights. How to consolidate a government strong enough to brave the waves of opposition that had subverted so many apparently well-founded governments before, strong enough to outlive the subtile influences that undermined and overthrew the Republics of Greece and Rome, strong enough to meet and silence internal discord and external foes;—how to accomplish this result was among the knottiest questions that filled the minds of WASHINGTON, JEFFERSON, MADISON et als of a like calibre. The Constitution finally consummated by them did not, as history teaches, solve this problem of State Rights. On the other hand it served to allay the agitation of the same, but it was only to increase the violence of that inevitable storm which subsequent events have demonstrated. The issue had to be met. Portentious clouds were already beginning to loom up above the political horizon; the muttering thunders that were destined to shake our country from centre to circumference were thus early sending their death-presaging echos throughout all the councils of the nation.

That illustrious trio, WEBSTER, CLAY and CALHOUN, standing like sentinels on the ramparts of the nation's defence, saw this gathering storm, and said the first: "Let us save the Constitution though all else go down." But seeing the rights of the States subsequently disregarded, the Constitution violated and all reasonable demands spurned, the result is too well known. Then the heart of every true Southerner, the heart of every true man of whatever country, should feel a thrill of pride as he reviews the record of the "sons of Dixie"! Whatever may have been the causes of the war, whether just or unjust, one thing is sure, the devotion, the courage, the heroism of the Southern people during that bloody period can never fail to awaken admiration so long as a due appreciation for valor and noble deeds have an abiding place in the human soul. When duty called they came. Conceiving their cause to be just, they hesitated not to stake their lives, their fortunes, their all. When the final hour had come and the ominous notes of war had been heralded from the blue waves of the Atlantic to the verdure-clad praries of the far South, when the thundering tones of [illegible] had echoed down the Mississippi, the brave sons of our sunny Southland no longer faltered. No Heaven bless their sweet memories! they came in solid phalanx, touching shoulder to shoulder and elbow to elbow, in one united column, inspired by one mighty purpose, animated by one noble desire, and bouyant with faith in their cause, the boys in gray rallied around the "stars and bars," ready and willing to sacrifice their lives on their country's altar. From the towering hills and picturesque valleys of the Old Dominion and mother of States, from the spreading forests and smiling cotton fields of the Carolinas, from the tangled everglades of Florida, and every part of our fair land they came. Was their enthusiasm transient sentiment, destined to fade into cowardice and failure at the first approach of danger? No, indeed, Manassas, Cold Harbor and Drury's Bluff showed that their's was no "braggart's boast."

Shall we ever forget them? Shall we ever regard with scorn or indifference our fathers who fought and bled and died under the dear old flag? Aye, will the time ever come when the young men of South will be ashamed of their fathers who wore the gray? Heaven forbid! Today they sleep, many of them, in unknown graves upon the grassy slopes and smiling meadows of old Virginia. No solemn pageant followed them to their last resting place and no marble shaft marks the spot. The thoughtless ploughman turns the hallowed sod and the dashing steam horse shakes their quiet dust. No gentle hand e'er comes bearing the floral tribute and no pitying tear is ever dropped above their sleeping ashes. But the modest violet blooms unseen above them and the wild flowers weave themselves into tangled wreaths and evergreens planted by nature's own hand, uncared for, smile upon them. The zephyrs chant their funeral lay and the drear north winds sound their mournful dirge. But

"On fame's eternal camping ground,
Their silent tents are spread,
And glory guards with solemn round
The bivouac of the dead."

Nor must we forget the noble women of the South. In those days of gloom and trial they were ever true. At home, in the hospital, on the field of carnage, everywhere like angels of mercy, angels of light, angels of hope, the heroic women of the South appeared. When all seemed lost and others were ready to give up in despair, the women with a courage almost sublime would rouse the failing hopes of their husbands, sons and brother. Whether at home with busy hands making garments for the far away veteran, or in the hospital, soothing with gentle touch, the fevered brow, or on the field of death, moving like an angel of mercy amid the dead and dying, her mission was ever one of love and her influence a mighty power.

Historians have written and orators have painted and poets have sung of the heroism of the women of Sparta, but infinitely grander than anything that Spartan women ever displayed was the heroism of those women who united the most stirring appeals to bravery with the utmost gentleness and tenderness, who with one hand smoothed the pillow of the dying brave, telling him of the "brighter life beyond," and with the other waved his comrade on to victory. Noble women! God's greatest and best gift to man!

THE FAYETTEVILLE AND ALBEMARLE ROAD.

We should like to see the survey of the Fayetteville and Albemarle Railroad commenced. This road has been granted a very liberal charter, at no cost to the corporators, and when built will run through an undeveloped section of the finest timbered lands in this part of North Carolina. It will be a very valuable road indeed to Fayetteville, and in our opinion, it is the road that this town greatly needs. It will restore to us the lost trade of the people who in years gone by, knew no trading place, and wanted to know none, but Fayetteville.

To the merchants of Fayetteville and the people of Cumberland county we say this is the road for you to build. Every town around us is reaching out for trade, and we must be "reaching" or "get left." That's the only way to look at it. Facts are stronger than fiction, and truth is mighty and will prevail. Build the Fayetteville and Albemarle road and the permanent prosperity of Fayetteville is assured. Begin then at once with the survey.

One thing certain, it does not take a prophet to tell that Fayetteville needs to move in the direction of influencing trade and travel hither. Then why delay? Have we not been taught that "procrastination is the thief of time?"

ABSTRACT

Of the Proceedings of the Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railway Company at Mt. Airy May 2, 1889—New Lines to be Built and Extended—Officers re-elected for the ensuing year, &c.

On motion of President Gray, Capt. N. W. Ray, of Fayetteville, was called to the Chair. Jno. M. Rose, Secretary of the Company being secretary of the meeting.

A committee was appointed who reported a large majority of the stock present in person and by proxy.

The report of the President and Directors and of the other officers of the Company was submitted, all of which was accepted and approved, and directed to be printed and distributed to the Stockholders.

In order to facilitate the management of the Bonded debt of the Company a new mortgage was authorized to be made, called a "Consolidated Mortgage," with the proceeds of which is to be retired the first and second mortgage bonds issued under a former mortgage authorizing first and second bonds thus making a "consolidated debt," in lieu of first and second bonds and to be of the same amount per mile, not increasing the debt of the Company, but making it of easier management.

At the request of the Interstate Commission the financial year of the Company was changed so as to end with the last day of June in each year and the annual meeting hereafter is to be held on the first Thursday in October instead of May as formerly.

On motion of Hon. Geo. M. Rose it was resolved by the Stockholders in general meeting assembled—that the President and Directors of this Company be requested to inquire into the feasibility and practability of this Company's constructing or aiding or assisting in the construction of the Fayetteville and Aberdeen Railroad, and if, in their judgment, it is feasible to take such steps and make such contracts as to them may seem right and proper to or assist in the construction of the same.

On motion of Maj. J. Turner Morehead, a resolution was adopted as follows:

WHEREAS, the City of Danville is contemplating making a subscription to secure western connections and, whereas, the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway Company is arranging for extensions into the mineral regions of Southwest Virginia and the West, it is

Resolved, By the stockholders of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway Company that this Company looks with favor to a connection with Danville, and if the City of Danville should see fit to make subscription to a road connecting with this road at Madison, this Company will unite with said road in such measures for an interchange of business as may be mutually beneficial.

On motion of the Hon. Geo. M. Rose, and after a few remarks by him and President Gray, the following resolutions were adopted by a standing vote.

WHEREAS, since the last general meeting of the stockholders of this Company, Maj. D. G. MACRAE, of Fayetteville, a former and the first President of this Company has passed away and, whereas, the stockholders of this company whose interest he so carefully guarded and whose success he so fondly looked for should give some expression to his worth; therefor be it

Resolved, That in the death of Maj. MacRae the State has lost a prominent and distinguished citizen, who at all times labored earnestly and faithfully for her development. An ardent friend of internal improvement he early in life began to advocate the building of railroads, and through his long and useful career never flagged in his zeal and earnestness for the upbuilding of his State and the especial development of this Company's road and the section through which it passed.

Resolved, That this Company in his death has lost a faithful friend and an able advocate, who at all times, in public position and private life, aided its progress and used his best eneeavors to promote its success.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased and published in the FAYETTEVILLE OBSERVER.

The secretary was authorized and directed to cast the ballot of all the stock holders for the last Board of Directors for the ensuing year, which was done as follows:

Julius A. Gray, Greensboro, N. C.; D. W. C. Benbow, Greensboro; W. A. Moore, Mt. Airy; Dr. W. A. Lash, Walnut Cove; Chas. P. Stokes, Richmond, Va.; J. Turner Morehead, Leaksville; Col. K. M. Murchison, New York; R. T. Gray, Raleigh; Geo. W. Williams, Wilmington; Dr. Jno. M. Worth, Asheboro; Jno. D. Williams, Fayetteville; E. J. Lilly, Fayettville.

The following committee was appointed to pass over and examine the Madison and Factory Branches of this Company built by the North State Improvement Company under a contract July 20, 1883, and report to the Board of Directors of the Company if said branches are constituted according to contract,

Viz: N. W. Ray, Chairman, Fayetteville; D. N. Dalton, Dalton; T. S Lutterloh, Fayetteville; O. R. Cox, Randolph county; J. M. Vaughn, Madison; W. E. Bevil, Greensboro, A. M. Campbell, Fayetteville; J. A. Pemberton, Fayetteville.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board all the old officers of the company were elected for the next year. viz:

Julius A. Gray, President; Jno. M. Rose, Secretary; J. W. Fry, General Superintendent; J. R. Williams, Treasurer; R. W. Bidgood, Auditor; W. E. Kyle, General Freight and Passenger Agent; Hon. Geo. M. Rose, Attorney.

At the same meeting a provisional contract was made to extend the Factory Branch to a point 9 miles distant to take in all the Factories, below Cedar Falls—thus supply with railroad facilities all the factories below that point.

Mr. Frank Steadman.

We were glad to shake hands with the genial and clever Frank Steadman of the Wilmington Star on our streets this week. He is here reviewing the scenes of by-gone days and in the interest of that unique, able and shining Star of Wilmington, one of the brightest lights in Southern journalism.

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

And Directors of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railway Company to the Stockholders at Their Annual Meeting at Mt. Airy, May 2nd, 1889.

Gentlemen:—At the beginning of the last fiscal year, April 1st, 1888, the track was laid to within 7½ miles of Mt. Airy. On the 16th of May it reached that point and the road was regularly opened for business on the 11th of June. All necessary side tracks, turnables, depots, section houses, water tanks, etc., were built and the committee appointed at your last annual meeting to examine the western division of your road, from Greensboro to Mt. Airy, made the following report thereon, to wit:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE.
GREENSBORO, N. C., Aug. 22, 1888.

To the President and Directors of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railway Company:

In accordance with a resolution of the Stockholders passed in annual meeting May 3rd, 1888, appointing the undersigned a committee to examine the line of road between Greensboro and Mt. Airy, its bridges, trestles, and equipment and see if the same has been constructed and equipped in accordance with a contract with the North State Improvement Company, the undersigned have passed over the road between Greensbro and Mt. Airy and performed the duty required by said resolution, and now report that said contract has been complied with and recommend that your Board accept the same, and discharge the contractors as having fully complied with its promises.

ROGER P. ATKINSON,
Chief Engineer.
N. W. RAY.
D. G. MACRAE.
A. M. CAMPBELL.
J. A. PEMBERTON.

This report was received by your Board of Directors at their meeting Aug 28, '88 and a resolution adopted, in accordance therewith, accepting the road from Greensboro to Mt. Airy and its equipment as in full compliance and discharge of your contract with the North State Improvement Company for the construction and equipment of the same, and directing the issue and delivery to said Company the Mortgage Bonds and Certificates of Stock due it by the terms of said contract.

We would here call the attention of the Stockholders to the fact that, after this Western division of their road was completed in accordance with this contract, and the North State Improvement Company discharged from all further liability under the same, they expended $24,552.22 in reducing the grades, taking out objectionable curves, and substituting stone drains for wooden trestles to the great improvement of the line.

The Madison Branch was completed to the South bank of Dan River, opposite the town of Madison, about 2,900 feet from its proposed terminus, and regular train service established to that point on the 24th of December. The stone piers and trestled approaches for the bridge have been completed, and but for the difficulty in getting suitable material for the super-structure, the trains would have been running into the town two months ago. The bridge consists of two spans, 135 feet each, and the contract for the material was let to six different parties before we finally succeeded in getting such as was acceptable to your Chief Engineer.

On the first day of March last, the City of Wilmington voted a subscription to the capital stock of your company of $150,000. On the 21st of the same month your engineer corps commenced the surveys for the extension of your road from Fayetteville to that. Port; and by the first of June the contracts for grading the entire distance were let and the work begun. More than two-thirds of the grading is now completed and by the terms of the contracts it is all to be done by the first of July next. The bridge masonry, trestling and piling for the entire line is also under contract to be completed at same date, and the iron bridge at Black River consisting of a single span of 125 feet, is to be completed June 1st, and that over Cape Fear River at Fayetteville consisting of two spans of 190 each and two of 150 feet each—in all 680 feet, is to be ready for trains to pass over in the month of August. The cross ties have been bought and distributed along the line for nearly the whole distance.

Spacious grounds, with ample water frontage for terminal purposes, have been purchased at Wilmington and the necessary wharves, ware-houses, offices, etc., for the convenient handling of passengers and freight are now being rapidly constructed.

The rails and fastenings for the entire line have been bought, and track-laying will begin at Wilmington about the 15th of the present month [May].

As soon as the bridge at Fayetteville is completed the track will also be laid from that end and it is confidently expected that the entire road from Fayetteville to Wilmington will be completed by the first of January, 1890.

After completing the surveys for the Wilmington extension, your engineer corps was transfered west of Mt. Airy to co-operate with the corps of the Norfolk and Western Railroad company, then in the field, in locating the line and fixing the point of connection with that company's road at the Virginia State line. The point adapted in this preliminary survey is on the line crossing the Blue Ringe west of Pipers Gap, and reaching the State line at a point 9½ miles from your depot at Mt. Airy.

The engineer corps of the Norfolk and Western Road are still in the field making a very careful and thorough survey of all the routes, and it is not improbable that they may find a cressing of the mountain which will shorten the line to be built by this company several miles.

The president of the Norfolk and Western Railroad company in his annual report for the year ending December 31st, 1888—says of this connection:

"Surveys have also been made for the further developement of the iron ore territory between your Cripple Creek extension and the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railway. The distance between the present termini of the two lines is about 45 miles, and that portion of the connecting link to be built by your company, 35 miles in length, will develope the resources of a section of country containing iron, zinc and copper ores, and furnish considerable local traffic. Your management considers the proposed connection an important one, and that it should be undertaken in the near future.

The unsightly and insufficient depot accommodations for passengers at Fayetteville have long been an eye-sore to the public and a mortification to the management, and it has been determined to erect a handsome and commodius structure during the coming summer to meet the increasing demands of business at that point.

By reason of the failure of the State penitentiary to furnish the convicts provided for by the various Acts of the Assembly, your company was deprived of the further benefits of this labor and as a matter of justice your board memoralized the last Legislature asking a return of the bonds to the amount of $101,000 held by the State. The justice of this claim was so manifest that an act was passed with great unaniimity, authorizing the return of said bonds, which was made to the President of your company, and said bonds were delivered by him to the North State Improvement Company which, by the contract of 1883, was entitled to the benefit of any return of bonds made by the State to the Company.

OPERATING DEPARTMENT.

The report of your general superintendent and the statement of your Auditor, submitted therein, show a gratifying increase in the business of your road, as compared with previous years, and bear evidence of conservative economy in its operation.

The business branches and extensions come up fully to the measure of our expectations and there has been a steady improvement in the traffic of the entire line.

It has ever been the policy of your management to foster and encourage the local business of your road, as the source to which it must look for its greatest revenue, and they are pleased to note the progressive development in this department of its traffic.

The increased earnings of the last fiscal year is largely due to the rapid growth of the towns and villages which have sprung up along your line with their multiplied and diversified industries; and they will continue to grow and increase, as the years roll by, giving constant and renumerative employment to your trains in the transportation of their passengers and freights.

The lumber business already constitutes a large proportion of your local traffic, and the extension of your line to Wilmington will open new and inviting fields for the further investment of capital in this profitable industry.

When the port of Wilmington is reached and your North-western connections are perfected, your road will be recognized as an important factor in the commercial relations of North Carolina with the world; in the development of her resources at home and in the prosperity and advancement of her entire population.

The board desires to return their thanks to the officers and employees of the Company for the performance of their duties during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,
JULIUS A. GRAY, Pres't.

The Campaign Waxing Warm in Harnett.

The campaign in Harnett on the question of removing the county seat from Lillington to Dunn, is waxing pretty warm. Speech making commenced last Monday and will end at Dunn next Monday. Both sides seem to be hopeful of victory.

Biggest Thing On Record.

The C. F. & Y. V. Railroad ran 54 regular schedule trains over their line last Saturday in order to accomodate the vast throng of swarming humanity in attendance upon the Guilford Court House Battle Ground Celebration. This "run" is without a precedent in the history of the road.

The Contract Awarded.

The contract for building the wood work of the Railroad bridge across the Cape Fear River at this place has been awarded our popular and enterprising townsman, J. D. McNeill, by the Pheonix Bridge Company, of Philadelphia, which fact within itself, is a sufficient guarantee that the work will be admirably executed.

Fayetteville Complimented.

At the conclusion of his discourse Sunday night, Evangerlist Pearson took occasion to remark that Fayetteville had demonstrated more zeal and consecration to the cause of Christ by the construction of a tabernacle with such massive proportions, than any town he had ever visited in all his evangelical work. This is indeed a compliment to the people of Fayetteville and the high standard of christianity existing here, as well. Is there one of her sons living who is not proud of the capital City of the Cape Fear?

THE PEARSON MEETINGS.

Growing in Interest Each Day—People Flocking Here From Almost Every Direction To Hear This Wonderful Servant of God Expound the Holy Scriptures.

Evangerlist Pearson arrived here last Saturday and commenced a two weeks series of meetings in the Pearson Tabernacle Sunday night. Such intense interest as has been manifested by our people and from the surrounding country, from the very beginning has been unequaled, there being between two and three thousand people at the first service.

The subject of this sermon will be found in Galatians, 6th chapter and 7th and 8th verses: "Be not deceived, God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

From this text he preached a powerful sermon, impressing all with his familiarity with the Bible, his thorough consecration to the cause of Christ, his earnestness and zeal for the salvation of souls and his strict adherence to the word of God as a means of regeneration. Indeed we have never heard a sermon more remarkable for simplicity, yet powerful in argument. Mr. Pearson is at home in the Bible and handles his subject with ease and perspicuity, and his first sermon here stamped him as one of the greatest preachers of the nineteenth century. Without the use of rhetoric or poetry or flowers he expounds the Word of God in an almost entirely different light, compared with any thing we have hitherto listened; and his every utterance never fails to sink deep down into the hearts of his hearers, saints and sinners alike. Truly he is a child of God, and no man, woman or child who heard this sermon could fail to believe that "God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

BIBLE READINGS.

Monday morning the service consisted of Bible reading and "how to use the Scriptures" was made so plain by the instrumentalities this wonderful servant of God employs, that all were constrained to believe this feature of the meetings was not only essential, but interesting as well as instructive and a power for good.

Interesting by reason of the fact that this service is devoted to reading passages from the Scriptures, collated by Mr. Pearson himself, well-calculated to operate upon the minds of the "Indifferent," the "Penitent," the "Deferring," the "Fault-finders," "Good Enough," Back-sliders," "Can't-Give-up class," and "Unbelievers."

For the "Indifferent" your attention he calls to Prov. i. 24—33; also Luke xiii. 2—3, Ecc. xi. 9 and I. Kings xviii. 21.

For the "Penitent," he cites you to John i. 12, John 3rd chapter, 14th and 16th verses, Acts 13th chapter and 39th verse, Romans 4th chapter and 5th verse, and Galatians 3rd chapter and 26th verse.

Next comes the "Deferring" to whom he reads Prov. 27th chapter and 1st verse, Isa. 55th chapter and 6th–7th verses, Luke, 12th chapter, 18th and 20th verses, Second Corin. 6th chapter and 2nd verse, Heb. 2nd chapter, 3rd verse, Heb. 3rd chapter, 13th verse, Heb. 3rd chapter, 7th verse.

To the "Fault-finders," he calls your attention to Matt. 7th chapter and 1st verse, Rom. 2nd chapter, 2nd and 3rd verses, Rom. 14th chapter, 4th verse and Rom. 14th chapter, 12th verse.

Then there is the "Good Enough," whom he cites to Psa. 14th chapter, 2nd and 3rd verses, Ecc. 7th chapter and 20th verse, Isa. 53rd chapter, 6th verse, Rom. 3rd chapter, 23rd verse and I John, 1st chapter, 8th and 10th verses.

To the "Backslides," he simply refers you to Jer. 2nd chapter, 5–13–19th verses, Jer. 3rd chapter, 13–22 verses, Hosea 12th chapter, 1–2–4 verses.

Seventh, we find the "Cant-give-up Class," as he styles them,—and properly, too,—whom he refers to Matt. 1st chapter, 24th and 27th verses, Heb. 11th chapter 24th–27th verses, Luke 18th chapter 29–30 verses.

Eighth and last we come to the "Unbelievers," all of whom he refers to Mark 15th and 16th verses, John, 8th chapter, 24th verse and Rev. 21st chapter and 8th verse.

To read and study these passages is what Mr. Pearson very properly terms "How to use the Scriptures" and like everything else he says it is true, for these different passages from the Bible are especially applicable to the "Inniferent," the "Penitent," the "Deferring," the "Fault-Finders," the "Good Enough," the "Backsliders," the "Can't-give-up-Class" and Unbelievers."

Monday night the sermon was fine and the crowd much larger. The text will be found in James 2nd chapter, 24th verse, "Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only." Never before have we we heard this subject handled with such force and power, and by thus speaking we but voice the honest sentiment of all present.

The services Tuesday morning were unusually interesting and there was a perceptible increase in the number in attendance over the morning services of the previous day, with a corresponding increase of interest manifested in the cause of Christ.

Tuesday night the services consisted of a sermon and an inquiry meeting, the text of which will be found in John, 3rd chapter, 7th verse: "Marvel not that I said unto thee, ye must be born again." How important it is that a man be born again and how beautifully he illustrated his text, no one except Mr. Pearson can describe. Quoting further from the Book of John, he said: "And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the son of man be lifted up; that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have eternal life. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life." Nothing but the plain outspoken word of God was used to convince his hearers that they must be born again, and the effect was very gratifying, for after the sermon, came the inquiry meeting, when and where twelve came forward and publicly announced their emancipation from the bitter thraldom of a wicked life.

Wednesday morning's services were remarkable for the great religious feeling that pervaded every part of the tabernacle and the zeal and earnestness with which the large number present participated in singing praises to God's Holy name.

NOTES.

The choir numbers about fifty and the singing at the Tabernacle is excellent.

Already there are people here from Robeson, Richmond, Union, Moore, Stanley, Sampson, Chatham, Randolph and from a large number of other counties attending the Pearson meetings.

Everybody should hear Mr. Pearson Those who have heard him say they never heard his equal.

Evangelist Pearson was converted and gave his heart to Jesus when only six and one-half years old.

HAIL COLUMBIA, HAPPY LAND!

Ex-President Jefferson Davis Tacitly Assents and will "Break Bread" with us at the Centennial Celebration, in this City, of the Adoption of the Federal Constitution By North Carolina, November 21st, 1889.

Herewith appended we give the correspondence between the committee on invitation and Ex-President DAVIS, wherein the great chieftain tacitly accepts the invitation, health and life permitting, to "break bread" with us on the 21st of next November, in honor of the Centennial Anniversary of the adoption, by North Carolina, of the Federal Constitution. Let all hearts be thrilled with pride that this grand old man—the Gladstone of America—will honor us with his presence on this auspicious occasion. Herald the news to the four corners of the civilized world! Proclaim it from the house tops! Tell it on the highways and byways, on land and sea, and join with us fellow-citizens, in celebrating with pomp and glory, this important epoch in the history of our State, and pay homage to this great and grand old Chieftain.

LETTER OF INVITATION.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., April 18th, 1889.

Hon. Jefferson Davis, Beauvoir, Mississippi:

DEAR SIR:—The agreeable duty has been delegated to us of making known to you the unanimous wish of the people of our town and surrounding county, as embodied in a Resolution adopted in a mass meeting on the 16th inst., and herewith enclosed, that you will consent to officiate as the orator on the most interesting occasion in our State history.

The object, as you will see by preamble and Resolution, is to celebrate in fitting style the Centennial Anniversary of the Ratification by North Carolina of the Constitution of the United States, which was done in our town on the 21st of November, 1789.

It is the sentiment of our people that no one is so well equipped to descant upon the constitution as he to whom the duty has been assigned, qualified by nature, by study, by experience, by expounding, and especially by practical observance of its teachings. Hence we do most sincerely trust that you will give favorable response to our invitation.

Although our State, as you of course are aware, was first in resistance to Crown encroachment and not laggard in the sequel, she was virtually the last to give in her adhesion to the closer bond of union which was subsequently adopted.

The captious may seem in this last, cause for cavil, but thinking men will ever aver that the calm deliberation then exercised was the unerring forecast of the strictest observance of every provision and limitation after that adhesion was once given. The cautious impulse of '88 and '9 was the active one of '75 and '6, the dread and jealousy of extraneous power, whether inherent or delegated. But once adopted, it was never infranted by North Carolina. We would be derelect to our trust, honored sir, did we omit to mention the unanimous and vociferous acclaim which greeted the suggestion of your presence.

Had you heard it, no urging were needed to induce you to give desired answer to this call of love, and let it be added that our town hall meeting of two days ago, was like the one of a hundred years bygone on the self same spot, the reflex of popular sentiment throughout our State.

The resolution looking to your attendance &c., will strike a reverberate chord wherever read. We are aware that advancing age and possible infirmities may interpose obstacle to our desire, but sincerely trust otherwise, and otherwise we trust that nothing will prevent your acceptance of the call. Give us at least acceptance contigent thereon. Aye! come and talk the Constitution to a people who revere it, pure and undefiled, next to the Revealed word of The Most High.

Come and round off your glorious public career on that theme of themes. Come and break bread with us and look our admiring State in the face and metaphorically shake her hand. Come and gladden the hearts of your old Veterans who will rally from ocean to mountain top to look upon their laved Chieftain once again; and will strain their patriotic throats "to bursting nigh" with a faint imitation of the old time yell.

Say, "come I will, health permitting," and this committee will meet you at your nearest station with most comfortable rail carriage for yourself and family any day you may designate for starting, and any day for returning, it will be at your command, and you can lay over when and how long you will.

Earnestly soliciting a favorable response we are Dear Sir, with highest consideration, your well wishers and ob't servants,

WHARTON J. GREEN,
JAMES C. MACRAE,
C. W. BROADOOT,
W. C. MCDUFFIE,
NEILL W. RAY.
Committee of Invitation.

BEAUVOIR, MISS., May 3, 1889.

GENTLEMEN:—Your very kind and gratifying letter of the 18th ult. has been received. I would gladly accept the invitation to attend the meeting to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the ratification by North Garolina of the Constitution of the United States and to officiate as orator on that occasion as invited; but it is not only doubtful whether I shall be able to attend, but improbable that I could satisfactorily perform the duties of orator. I must ask of you to accept the assurance that I would meet you as invited, health and strength permitting, but request of your kindness and consideration that you will select some other person for the honorable position of orator to which your people in mass meeting assembled, have in such flattering terms, assigned to me.

North Carolina, first in assertion of the unalienable rights of man, prompt in open resistance to encroachment by the crown upon the charters of the colonies, steady in the maintenance of the Declaration of Independence, slow to grant powers which might be perverted to the impairment of her liberties, and faithful throughout her existence as a sovereign State to every obligation of compact, is to be honored and revered as well for her prompitude to resist aggression, as for her careful guardianship of the community rights of her people.

Presenting to you, and through you to your associates my sincere thanks for the honor conferred upon me, I am

Ever faithfully yours,
JEFFERSON DAVIS.

Messrs. Wharton J. Green, C. W. Broadfoot, W. C. McDuffie, James C. MacRae, Neill W. Ray, Committee of Invitation.

The Latest.

One of the newly appointed Justices of the Peace for Cross Creek township, Cumberland County, whose stately bearing and graceful carriage would make the Duke of New Castle "feel bad," has adopted the following novel ceremony for joining together "two souls with but a single thought and two hearts that beat as one":

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
Cumberland County.

Know all men by these presents that, whereas Jack Graham, having made up his mind to change his life of single blessedness to that of marriage bliss, and choosing as his partner in distress one single lady who labors under no legal or physical disability up to the date of these presents, and who before the consumation of this delectable acme of bliss, now being reached by the aforesaid party of the first part, was known and addressed as Miss Jane Jones, now, therefore, for and in consideration of the sum of two dollars to me in hand paid, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, I, ——— J. P., in and for the County of Cumberland, by virtue of the power in me vested, by law, do now proceed to join together "two souls with but a single thought, two hearts that beat as one."

And, now, at this stage of the proceeding, as a word of advice and consolation may be of advantage to you through the long vista of years that are to come flooding on the sea of time, I will say you Jack Graham, will love this woman with all the fervor that your limited mind is possessed of, and that you will promise to furnish her with all the necessary supplies, &c., that may be conducive to her happiness, that you will be constant in your affections, and let no other, though she be fairer, wean your affections from this your first and earliest love.

And you fair maiden must shed upon this benighted soul the effulgent rays of the light of your eternal love to the end that your children may rise up and call you blessed.

Now if any one know cause why these two parties should not be lawfully joined together in matrimony, let them speak now or forever after this hold their peace.

You will now proceed to join right hands. Do you, Jack Graham, take this woman whom you hold by the hand to be your lawfully wedded wife, and do you promise to love, honor and cherish her in sickness and in health, forsaking all others and cling only unto her so long as you both shall live?

Do you take this man whom you hold by the hand to be your lawfully wedded husband, and do you promise to love, honor and obey him, that you will keep him in sickness and in health, forsaking all others and cling only to him until death shall seperate you?

And, now, by virtue of authority in me vested, I pronounce you man and wife. Whom threfore God hath joined together let no man put asunder.

A Cyclone In Duplin.

Warsaw and vicinity were visited on the morning of the 1st inst., by the most terrific cyclone ever before heard of in that section. The ground was covered with hail in short order and by actual measurement was 8 inches deep in drifts. Houses and fences were blown down and truck farms laid waste, and several persons injured by hail and flying timbers. Such a wholesale destruction of property is rarely ever chronicled. The actual losses, as best we can learn at the time of going to press, are about as follows: Presbyterian church, $1,500; G. J. Lamberth, truck and houses, $2,000; W. L. Hill, truck and houses, $2,000; J. W. Herring, truck and houses, etc., $500; W. H. Murrey, truck and houses, $1,000; L. R. Carroll, truck and houses, $250; O. P. Middleton, truck and houses, $500 W. P. Kennedy, truck and houses, $200; J. K. Smith, truck and houses, $500; B. L. Blackmore, truck and houses, $100; A. W. Bell, truck and houses, $400; D. G. Morisey, truck and houses, $100; D. J. Aaron, truck and houses, $100; Blockburn Bros., truck and houses, $1,000; Dr. L. Hussey, truck and houses, $100; W. Bowden, truck and houses, $100; H. J. Carlton, truck and houses, $300; J. B. Winder, truck and houses, $300; J. F. Woodward, truck and houses, $150; C. W. West, truck and houses, $300; J. M. Blanchard, truck and houses, $100. Total damage about $12,000.

The Presbyterian church, we learn, was totally demolished, and its timbers scattered over two acres of land.

The Competitive Examination for a Naval Cadetship.

The competitive examination for an appointment to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, for the Third District, took place last Wednesday at Warsaw, before the following Board of Examiners appointed by Hon. C. W. McClammy: Prof. Marion Butler, of Clinton, Henry L. Cook, Esq., of Fayetteville and Professor W. H. Hand, of Fremont. The examination was thorough and according to the rules and instructions sent out by the Academic authorities. The result was in favor of Mr. Pope Washing, of Goldsboro, as principal, and Mr. Alfred McKethan, of Fayetteville, as alternate. The difference in the general average of the two was but 1 9-10. The board complimented both of the young men on the excellent examination they stood. Mr. Edmund S. Faison, of Ellis, Sampson county, and Mr. Frank Oliver, of Mt. Olive, were also applicants and stood pretty fair examinations, but Cumberland and Wayne carried off the honors.

Welcome.

The Durham Plant of the 1st says: "Mr. John H. Underwood leaves to-day for Fayetteville, bearing the best wishes of his Durham friends for a prosperous future." Mr. Underwood, we understand, comes comes hither to take charge of the Fayetteville Oil and Varnish Works, of which he is a party of the firm, and where he will receive a warm and hearty welcome by his many friends.

Attention, Confederate Veterans!

COMRADES:—You are hereby earnestly requested to assemble at the Town Hall, Fayetteville, N. C., at 2.30 o'clock P. M., Friday, May 10th, 1889, for the purpose of doing honor to the memory of the Confederate dead. Let us hope that every Confederate soldier of Cumberland county and others, who will join us, will be present at that hour.

Raleigh News and Observer.]

Great success is attending the management of this important and purely North Carolina railroad. The last sale in Baltimore of its 6 per cent. bonds was at 106. By the next annual meeting, the road, it is thought, will be completed to the Virginia line where it will connect with the Norfolk and Western railroad, and thus be connected with the vast coal deposits of that road and have a most important western outlet. It will also by the same time be complete to Wilmington and have an eastern outlet through a North Carolina seaport.

THE OLD TRAMP PRINTER.

Here's a rhyme to the old tramp printer, that as long as he lives will roam,
Whose "ward" is his principal treasure, and where night overtakes him, home;
Whose shoes are run over and twisty, whose garments are shiny and thin,
And who takes a bunk in the basement when the pressman lets him in.

It is true, there are some of the trampers that only the Angel of Death,
When he touches them with his sickle, can cure of the 'spirituous breath;'
And that some of their fellow trampers are shunned as unwholesome scamps;
And that some are just aimless, homeless, restless, typographical tramps.

But the most of them surely are worthy of something akin to praise,
And have drifted down to the present out of wholesomer, happier days;
And where (though his looks be as seedy as ever a mortal wore)
Will you find the old tramper minus his marvelous funds of lore?

What paper hasn't he worked on? Whose manuscript has't he set?
What story worth remembrance was he ever known to forget?
What topics rise for discussion in letters, science, or art
That the genuine old tramp printer cannot grapple and play his part?

It is true you will sometimes see him when the hue that adorns his nose
Outrivals the crimson flushes that the peony flaunts at the rose;
It is true that much grime he gathers in the course of each trip he takes,
Inasmuch as he boards all freight trains between the gulf and the lakes.

Yet his knowledge grows more abundant than many much-titled men,
Who travel as scholarly tourists and are classed with the upper ten;
And few are the contributions these scholarly ones have penned
That the seediest, shabbiest tramper could not readily cut and mend.

He has little in life to bind him in one place more than the rest,
And his hopes in the past lie buried with ones that he loved the best;
He has little to hope from Fortune and has little to fear from Fate,
And little his dreams are troubled over the public's love or hate.

So a rhyme to the old tramp printers—to the hopes they cherished and wept—
To the loves and the old home voices that still in their hearts are kept;
A rhyme to the old tramp printer whose garments are shiny and thin,
And who take a bunk in the basement when the pressman lets them in.

Spring Disorders

Shattered nerves, tired brain, impure blood, debilitated system, all are the natural outcome in the Spring. A medicine must be used, and nothing equals Paine's Celery Compound. We let others praise us—you cannot help believing a disinterested party.

Brigadier-General W. L. Greenleaf, Burlington, Vt., writes: "I have used Paine's Celery Compound on several occasions, and always with benefit. Last spring, being very much run down and debilitated, I commenced taking it. Two bottles made me feel like a new man. As a general tonic and spring medicine I do not know of its equal."

"I have used two bottles of your Paine's Celery Compound, and it has given entire satisfaction as an appetizer and blood purifier."
T. L. BERNER, Watertown, Dakota.

Paine's Celery Compound

is prescribed by physicians, recommended by druggists, endorsed by ministers, praised by users, and guaranteed by the manufacturers, as a spring medicine which will do all that is claimed for it. Use it this spring, and see how quickly it tones you up.

Purifies the Blood.

Full accounts of wonderful cures made by Paine's Celery Compound after other medicines and the best physicians had failed, sent free. There's nothing like it.
